Veneers and the Environment

The first part of the presentation contains a video clip explaining how veneers are produced. Each of the principal cutting methods is examined as are the various matching techniques used by the master craftsman.

The second part of the presentation looks at what's being done to safeguard their future and highlights all of the recent initiatives that have evolved since the Rio Earth Summit in 1992. The differences between the two leading schemes, FSC and PEFC, are explained and information is provided on how the supply chain has influenced the continual growth in certified forestry.

The third part of the presentation covers the environmental merits of timber.
